DEDICATION

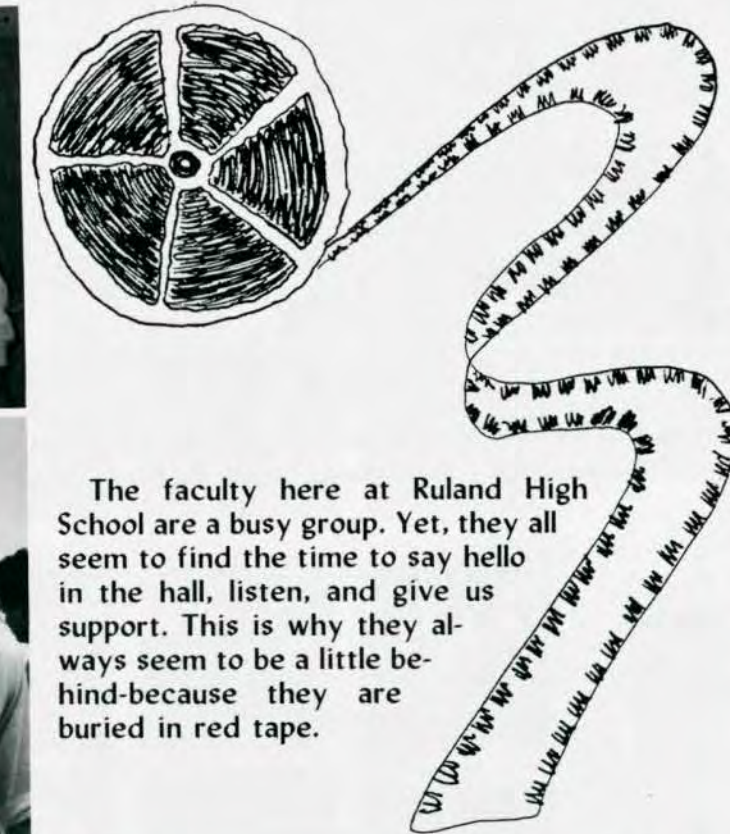

This man is someone whose face is familiar to every student at Rutland High School. In the five years that he has been at the school, the class of 1988 has come to respect him for his fairness, his sincerity, and his patience with the willfulness of the youthful mind. It is this patience which has enabled him to help us succeed in our high school careers. He has always demonstrated genuine concern for students, and can often be found out in the halls conversing with them. We the senior class, count ourselves fortunate to have been here at Rutland while this man was here, and we know that the school would not be quite the same without him.

Thank you, Joseph Whalen,
for everything.

Buried In Red Tape

The faculty here at Rutland High School are a busy group. Yet, they all seem to find the time to say hello in the hall, listen, and give us support. This is why they always seem to be a little behind-because they are buried in red tape.

Helen Perry Celebrates 50 Years At RHS

1988

The time was . . . January 1938

- * Adolf Hitler was pressing his demands for the "right of self-determination" for Germans in Austria and Czechoslovakia.
- * The armies of General Chaing Kai-Shek were collapsing under the force of the Japanese invasion of China.
- * President Franklin Roosevelt asked Congress for $991,300,000 in military appropriations, setting a new record for peace-time defense spending.
- * Rutland Mayor Henry H. Branchaud celebrated his 77th birthday, making him the oldest acting mayor in Vermont.
- * The new film at the Paramount was Wells Fargo, starring Joel McCrea, Bob Burns, and Frances Dee.
- * Helen Perry started work as an office secretary at Rutland High School . . .

. . . 50 years later, Helen Perry is still at her desk, directing the daily affairs of our school.

The students, faculty, and administration would like to thank Miss Perry for her many years of service, and we all hope that the next 50 years will be as enjoyable as the last 50 have been!

SHADES OF RED

Though each one of us is an individual, we are all graduating as a whole. Through the years, we have experienced both triumphs and tragedies. We are proud to be the class of 1988!

Officers Of The Class Of 1988

Mariko Ketchin, Secretary; Susan Parker, President; Matt Russell, Vice President; Greg Golden, Treasurer.

President's Message

Class of 1988

We are unique. Our involvement in academic, athletic, and social experiences has united us. Through this closeness, we have learned the value of cooperation, affection, optimism, and determination; and each of us will benefit from this solid foundation. I feel an asset acquired by the Class of 1988 is the capability to overcome the disappointments that have occurred. By keeping this positive attitude through our lives, nothing can hinder our ability to accomplish the goals that we wish to achieve.

Best of Luck to all,

Sue Parker

SENIOR CLASS WILLS

I, Eddie Barker, leave Keith my ability to work in woodshop.

I, Staci Barnts, leave Greg all my good times at Grand Union.

I, Brett Beaudry, leave my suspensions to John Cullen, my luck to graduate to Brian Hance; and my great skiing ability to Sara Barrett.

I, Stephanie Bell, leave my nickname "speedi" to, Chrissy Cabouch.

I, Denise J. Berry, leave to Miss Matterson all those 1st period "flutists" who don't count their 68 measures of rests!

I, Diane Berry, leave all the chemistry problems I had to do this year to anyone who can figure them out.

I, Jeff Bienvenue, will my good nature and sense of humor to Mr. Johnson.

I, David Birt, being of reasonably sound mind and body, leave the legacy of the pistons in the able hands of Greg Wolyneec.

I, Tye Blets, leave Tony Forrest my .357, and to Jaimie Holt and Claire Sullivan I leave my respect.

I, Heidi Bordak, leave the cons we never needed to use for the T-bird nerds; to Amy Mazz, Becky Martel, and to my sister Christine, I leave the ability to get through two more years with K.L. around.

I, Christopher "Boo" Bourque, do hereby leave my ability to buy and a thing of Turbo to Josh King.

I, Cynthia Bradley, leave to my cousin-in-law, Mary Bridget, my ability to skip school and not get in trouble, and my success to making it through my years at R.H.S.

I, Bill Branchaud, leave all the good times to Mike Keefe, an old friend.

I, Daniele Alex, leave Colleen Wandall all my luck and, to my Mom, I leave all my love.

I, Margaret Alexander, leave my good looks and charm to Lisa Lamb, my books, pens, and brain to my sister Dawn, my smiling face to Mrs. Cooper and Mr. Peterson, and best wishes to everyone else.

I, Erik Alsop, as I pass through the portals of eternity and venture into the black hole of oblivion, leave all of my earthly possessions to my dog, Semper, as I despise all of you (so-called) humans.

I, Scott Atwood, leave my 73 Centurion Convertible to John Grace; and B.O. to the class of "89" with hope that they can get him through.

I, Tammy Auberton, leave the best year of all (Senior Year) to Lou Merrill. Good luck with Rich.

I, Dave Augustyn, leave my sense of humor to Chip Maxfield, my track shoes to the 1989 RHS track team (they're in a swamp in Georgia), and E-flat to the bell in Mrs. Burke's room.

I, Greg Austin, leave to Ed Vilar a chain saw, so that he may seek revenge on a certain fateful tree, and my deepest thanks for being such a good friend (for a Junior).

I, Andy Bagley, leave Todd "Chip" Maxfield the ability to laugh at only funny jokes.

I, Shelley Bailey, leave to Michele Carrol my ability to have a great time.

I, Lauren Baker, leave Beckey Smith to care for my dalmation, and I leave a bag of M & M's to my Mom.

I, Tracey Baker, leave boring study halls to Phil, cantaloupes to Craig, and my pick sweater to Nick.

I, Dave Barclay, leave a safe and fair place for his hoop to Dan Wolins and my spot in the training room to anyone who gets hurt next year.

I, Steve Bruso, leave all my trouble making abilities to anyone who can deal with Mr. Whalen.

I, Dave Burgess, leave John C. my driving ability and the art of not getting busted for skip'n; to Brett I leave my car, so he won't have to walk to Candi's.

I, Tammy Bush, leave my pens, books and great quiet personality to Kim. Best wishes to Mr. Peterson, Mrs. Cooper, and Mrs. Enzor.

I, Toni Cahee, leave R.H.S. as the last Cahee; to Stacy, I leave my ability to do things right; and to Michelle, I leave my ability to spell!

LITTLE REDMEN

These are the Underclassmen; five classes of people who will be seniors themselves very soon. More or less together since kindergarten, each class has developed distinct qualities, and in the next few years they will progress together towards the time when they are ready to leave each other and individually face the world.

CLASS OFFICERS

President: Robert Hyjek
Vice-President: Michael Caulin
Secretary: Daniel Gedney
Treasurer: Craig McCuin

The Year Of Encore Theatre's Fame!

Encore Theatre began another successful year with advisor Cathy Archer and officers Ginny Neugebauer (Pres.), Christine Garrow (Co-VP), Thom Courcelle (Co-VP), Michelle Clifford (Sec.), and Paul English (Treas.).

After more than two months of preparation, the curtain opened, the lights dimmed, and the production of Fame began on Nov. 19 - 21. The turnout was record-breaking, despite the dreary weather that weekend.

Soon after completing its production of Fame, Encore Theatre began work on the play Us and Them, dealing with the issue of peace. This was prepared for the Ft. One Act Regionals, which was hosted at Rutland High School.

Besides hosting the Regionals, the club, with the help of the Arts Boosters, sponsored the performance of Little Theatre of the Deaf on January 12th.

MEDIATION is a group that was formed this summer to work with Rutland Social Services to help resolve conflicts within area families. The Rutland High School students, and adults from the community, who comprise the group attended extensive training sessions in August.

Aside from helping to settle family disputes, the group meets monthly to discuss the progress of its programs.

"I Gotta Take A Break

... I wanna play in the rain." Or so the commercial goes. And so Mr. Hooker's Ecology class headed for the Merck Forest in Rupert for their annual overnight forest study on Sept. 29 to Oct. 1, 1987.

Following a soggy start, Mr. Hooker and his students proceeded to enjoy 2⁺ beautiful fall days in one of Vermont's prettiest settings. The Merck Forest & Farmland Center consists of 2200 acres of meadows, forests, ponds, streams, cabins, and lean-to's, criss-crossed with old logging roads and smaller trails. Merck is a non-profit organization that caters to schools and the public for educational and recreational uses. It is also a great place to hike, camp, snowshoe, and cross-country ski.

After completing their formal forest study, the class hiked over much of the area, making the most of the many "teachable moments" that they encountered. Mr. Hooker reported that his students ate hardy, slept soundly, and returned refreshed (but tired) from this pleasant break in their usual school routine.

CLEANING UP THE RED INK

The production of the 1988 Talisman was no small undertaking, in either labor or expense. With a total cost of nearly $12,000.00, it would have been impossible to produce this book without the generous support of our parents, many local businesses, and the school board.

RED ALERT: Happy Hooker On The Loose At RHS

Student's in Mr. Hooker's A.P. Biology class celebrated the autumn equinox this year by balancing eggs on their classroom floor. According to Mr. Hooker, the earth's gravitational pull on an equinox day is such that an egg can balance on its end (see photo below). While Laura Schneider couldn't balance an egg, Peter Cacioppi felt that the experiment gave him "... a sense of Cosmic fulfillment."

Nic Sinibaldi, however, made the mistake of openly questioning the equinox theory of egg-balancing. For such insolence, Nic was immediately subjected to the ancient bubble torture (photo at right).

Hey, E.G. Heard you finally made it! Congratulations! When you get where you're going, send us a card. We'd like to share your good luck.

RED ALERT: Raiders Treated To Terrific Halloween

Halloween has long been a favorite holiday at RHS, and this year was no exception. The Raider's kicked-off the Halloween Festivities with a dance that was so spectacular that Mr. Taylor had to act as an armed guard to control the horrible horde.

Mariko Ketchin was Pumpkin Princess of the city's annual parade, at which the Raiders won awards for the best band costumes and best majorette costumes. The parade's theme this year was Disney World. The band dressed like dozens of famous Disney characters and the majorettes were a corp of Minnie Mouses.

Rutland's Skip Jensen and Scott Duncan shared the Chaffe
Art Center's award for best window decoration.

to Peter,

We have guided you down the "Yellow Brick Road" on your way to Oz. You have reached your destination and we are proud of you. Congratulations and Good Luck next year.

RED ALERT: RHS Meets Special Needs

A new arrival at RHS this year was the Special Needs - Level 3 class taught by Roxanne Marquis, formerly at the Northeast School, the Special Needs class had to move when both the age level of the other students and the size of the desks became inappropriate. Miss Marquis reports that her students have really matured since the move, thanks in large part to the help and encouragement of the students and staff at RHS.

In the classroom, students work on math, time, money, reading, writing, and pre-voc skills. They also help fill soda machines, clean the cafeteria tables, and work at a job in the community. The goal of this class is to help mentally retarded children to learn to be a part of the Rutland Community. Thus it is important that they be provided with opportunities to function as independently as possible in a variety of environments.

Read Alert: RHS Students And Faculty Are Climbing The Walls

Part of a new Senior High P.E. program that is trading competition for personal challenge, RHS students and faculty have literally "gone over the edge".

Ms. Panicucci explained that the goal of her new program is to have students and faculty learn non-competitive sports such as rappeling, cross-country skiing, and bicycling. These sports deal with such issues as stress, fear, and trust and provide a personal challenge.

Unfortunately, Ms. Laval was a little too trusting of one unnamed student who accidentally (??) lost his grip on the rope.
